To Make A Long Story Short

Senior year: the bright light at the end of our high school tunnel. With each passing year, the light grew closer reminding us that the end was near. That previously distant light of our futures is now within arms' reach. Having matured immensely in the years we spent at Stoneham High School, we now realize a school's value is not merely based on its building's condition, age, or amenities, but more importantly on the beauty found in its diverse student body and in each of their individual life stories. Whether we believe it to be fate or ourselves, the authors of our own personal life stories have constructed a series of intricate plots strung with common themes, symbols, characters, and conflicts that have been instrumental in creating who we are today. Each friend, fight, and farewell has shaped our identities and further developed our own character in the story of our lives. While they often felt endless, the past four years were only a prelude to the rest of our lives. The memories we have made in these last four years are as countless as the skills this school provided us with in order to lead successful lives as SHS graduates. To make a long story short, it was within the brick walls of Stoneham High School that each of us has grown and developed into remarkable individuals who will walk out of these halls and into the world with courage and clarity. As this chapter ends, a new one begins that will provide us with more knowledge and wisdom to carry with us as we gradually fill the pages of our futures. Although our individual stories may be as intriguing, rich, and complex as the literature we have read in our English classes, we won't have a quiz, a test, or a five paragraph essay to write about them. As the seniors of 2009, we can be happy about that because there are no Sparknotes for the stories of our lives, just many chapters waiting to be written.

DEDICATION

Mr. Edward Russo

For anyone walking through the front doors of Stoneham High School on a weekday morning, spotting Mr. Russo standing outside and greeting everyone with a smile is not uncommon. This is one reason, among many, that the 2009 graduating class has decided to dedicate our yearbook to our devoted principal. Mr. Russo is a long-standing member of the Stoneham community; he started his teaching career here in 1973 after graduating from Springfield College. He began his career as a social studies teacher at Stoneham Middle School and then worked his way up through the ranks. He became an English teacher when the high school switched to its new location on Franklin Street, was promoted to the vice-principal position in 1988, and is currently enjoying his second year as principal. Mr. Russo says that his inspirational high school history teacher influenced him to pursue a career in education, and he has certainly followed in his teacher's footsteps by inspiring all of us.

Mr. Russo works hard to keep our school running smoothly, which has been an especially difficult task in the past few years with our financial dilemmas. Working under the looming threats of cuts in athletic and academic programs, Mr. Russo and other administrators made sure Stoneham High students were still provided with as many opportunities as possible. By hiring new teachers, coaches, and directors, he has kept the school running efficiently. With his warm and kind personality, Mr. Russo treats every student and faculty member like a personal friend and makes everyone feel important. His unwavering dedication to the school is also displayed by his frequent presence at sporting events, regardless of the team's record or how badly they might be losing a game. He supports the Spartans one hundred percent and always congratulates teams on their efforts.

When asked about his best experiences at Stoneham High, Mr. Russo responded that in each of his positions, he has had an opportunity to help kids every day and that truly makes it all worthwhile. He offered the seniors a few pieces of advice to take with them as they leave and continue on with the rest of their lives. First, don't complain - just work harder; whining will not help you achieve your goals. Secondly, do everything the long way because it's usually the right way; shortcuts typically will not work. Also, learn from what people do, not from what they say they are going to do. And finally, never give up.

As we move into the future, fond memories of Stoneham High School will remain in our hearts forever. Many of these memories would not exist without the loyalty, effort, and guidance of Mr. Russo. As a class, we would like to thank him for setting a commendable example of leadership and for making our high school experience so wonderful.

FACULTY

No story is complete without supporting characters, and Stoneham High School would not be the establishment we know and love without its stupendous faculty. Throughout our four years, some teachers have left, others have joined us and our tight-knit community here at S.H.S. has grown and taken on the role of providing us with an outstanding education. In our long journey through the transformation from adolescents to young adults, we have faced obstacles and jumped many hurdles with the help of our wonderful faculty. They have devoted their lives to helping us grow and better ourselves. They enlighten us with new perspectives, force us to try our very hardest, and offer challenges to grow and learn. Most importantly, our principals, teachers, support staff, custodians, guidance counselors, and others at our home away from home are always there for advice, to lend a helping hand, or offer stability in our sometimes hectic lives. If we were to individually write our personal stories up until the present, they would all include the influences of faculty members, for they are some of the supporting characters who have helped shape who we are. To make a long story short, the faculty at S.H.S. has enriched our experiences, made us stronger and more determined, prepared us for the future, and helped us realize what is most important.

How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying

Haven't you ever wished there was a book with play by play chapters on How to Succeed in High School Without Really Trying? Wouldn't you like to know about teachers, how to stay out of detention, avoid confrontation and much more? Some chapters might include: How to Survive Gym, How to Find an Unlocked Bathroom, How to Pay Attention in Class, and How to Make it Through Your Senior Year.

Stoneham High performed the musical How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying. With the help of directors, Mr. Jason Eppskrier and Ms. Jessica Swegel, the musical guidance of Mr. Bob Lague, and stage direction of Kasey Conlon, the SHS stage was transformed into an office full of overworked and overwhelmed employees.

Finch (Andrew Barbato), a shabby window-washer, finds a book with step by step instructions on How to Succeed in Business. It included advice such as what to do on your coffee break, how to move up from the mailroom, and how to talk to the big-wig businessmen. Finch walks into the company of World-Wide Wickets and is instantly loved by all, especially the female executives including Smitty, played by Ashlyn Sacco. In the production's most famous song "Coffee Break," we learn just how hard it is to survive in the workplace and how to stay awake without that promising cup of coffee. Finch starts to fall in love with Rosemary (Laura Graczyk). The only person completely against Finch's presence in the company is President Biggley's nephew, Bud Frump, played by Angelo McDonough. Finch starts out in the mail room with head mailer, Mr. Twimble (Theo Yeomalakis), and learns the office customs through the well-known song, "The Company Way". Finch's abilities are recognized and he quickly soars to become the VP of Advertisement with his secretary (Rachel Proulx) alongside. Unfortunately, bimbo Hedy LaRue (Deidre Burke) decides to reveal Finch's brilliant plan to manipulate people into investing into the company which costs them millions of dollars and what Finch thought was his job. Later in a meeting led by executive Wally Womper (Sean Perry), Finch learns through another of the production's great songs. "Brotherhood of Men", what it really means to be involved in a company. In the end, Finch ends up with Rosemary and lives happily ever after.

The construction crew, under the direction of Danielle Salvi and Nikki Roberto, worked for weeks on transforming our stage into a real office building with moving elevators and a two-story set. Senior crew members included: Nick Federico, Amanda Frost, Ashley Mercer, Renee O'Brien, David Vargas, Michael Wilson-Pierce and Rossana Ye. Both the costume and make-up crew worked together to put the finishing pieces on a wonderful cast. Though the show ended, the memories of seniors working together during the scenes such as "Coffee Break" and "Company Way" will stay forever in our minds.

The cast pauses to take a picture together during the chaotic time before the play.

Finch waits for a hand-shake from Bud Frump.

Rosemary raves to Smitty about her love for Finch.

All the employees just need their "Coffee Break".

J. B. Biggley and his entourage attempt to devise a plan.

The Company works together to close the show on a beautiful note.

"What was your favorite memory of How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying?"

"My favorite memory from H2$ would have to be when the drama officers including myself, had to beg Mr. Eppskrier, Mr. Lague, and Mr. Russo to let the entire drama club out of school for the day so we could have more time to rehearse."

Ashlyn Sacco

"My favorite memory from H2$ would have to be trying to move the triangle table and watching a few crew members freeze when the lights turned on them, not knowing what to do... that was pretty funny."

Danielle Salvi

"My favorite memory of H2$ was most definitely transforming myself to an old man in .5 seconds. I'm one of those people who will always be 100 years old inside... This was my chance to totally transform."

Sean Perry

"My favorite memory from H2$ was during tech week, Mr. Eppskrier, Ms. Swegel, and I would sing Paris Original as loud as we could to put everyone in a good mood."

Noises Off

In the fall of 2008, the Stoneham High Drama Club performed Noises Off!, a story of characters in a play who bring backstage drama to real drama onstage. The play was superbly directed by Mr. Jason Eppskrier. Stage Manager and Assistant Director, Ashlyn Sacco, and Technical Supervisor, Mr. Paul Murphy, contributed greatly to the play. Noises Off! by Michael Frayn is a play within a play, focusing on the relationships between the characters. In the play, Dotty (Keri O'Brien) is an actress who plays the role of Mrs. Clackett, the housesitter. She is watching the house for Philip the playwright, played by Frederick (Theo Yeomelakis), who is abroad in Spain with his wife Flavia, played by actress Belinda (Alyssa LoGrasso). Roger, played by actor Gary (Angelo McDonough), is Frederick's real estate agent, who brings his business associate Vicki, played by inexperienced actress Brooke (Meghan Sheils), to the house for some business. However, as Roger entertains his guest, Philip and Flavia return to the house trying to avoid the IRS. The couples run on and off the stage as they hear strange things in the house, not knowing that there are others in the house as well. A burglar also makes his hilarious entrance during the mayhem, played by Selsdon (Billy Jenkins), an old alcoholic actor. The play is punctuated by the frustration of Lloyd (Ryan Marchant), the director of the play, as the actors miss cues and forget lines. Behind the curtains, the relationships between actors are deteriorating. A love triangle forms between Dotty, Gary, and Frederick and another love triangle is formed between Lloyd, Brooke, and Poppy (Kasey Conlon), the Assistant Stage Manager. Stuck in the middle of all the fighting, Tim (Tony DiBiase) the Stage Manager, and Maria (Julianne Ferguson) try to keep the show running smoothly. Eventually the problems behind stage bring themselves onstage as the last show spirals into a chaotic and disastrous mess. The Company of Rachel Proulx, Kayla Lemay, Michael Aliberti, as well as Darcy (Amanda Belliveau), Ron (Jeff Siegel), and Rick (Chris Stavre), all worked well with the other characters and discreetly brought props on and off the stage. Technical Directors, Nikki Roberto and Danielle Salvi, and Assistant Technical Directors, Amanda Frost and Teanny Yuen, created a realistic and moveable set for the play in the play. The seniors on the Construction Crew, Kasey Conlon, Nick Federico, Amanda Frost, Renee O'Brien, Sean Perry, Nikki Roberto, Ashlyn Sacco, Danielle Salvi, David Vargas, Michael Wilson-Pierce, Anna Wu, Rossana Ye, Theo Yeomelakis, and Teanny Yuen made a beautiful and functional set. Other crew members who worked on the set during tech week and moved it during intermissions were Kyle Arrington, Amanda Belliveau, Evan Bergstrom, Alison Brennan, Stephanie Cavanaugh, Victoria Ciarlante, Katie Conneely, Tom Dolan, Julianne Ferguson, Alison Gould, Ken Hogan, Dave Hume, Kayla Lemay, Rachel Lerman, Susmita Mukherjee, Mary O'Keefe, Emily Pineau, Fiona Poon, Jeff Siegel, Greg Skidmore, Chris Stavre, and Deanna Walsh. Props (Sean Perry, Michael Wilson-Pierce, Alison Gould, and Mary O'Keefe), costumes (Kasey Conlon, Theo Yeomelakis, Julianne Ferguson, Meghan Sheils, and Anna Wu), hair and make-up (Kasey Conlon, Ashlyn Sacco, Kate Foley, and Jill Graczyk), lights (Deepti Kanneganti, Jill Graczyk, and Ashlyn Sacco), and sound (Dave Hume) all did their part in creating this amazing production. As a whole performance, the fall production of Noises Off! was a wonderful and hilarious success.

The Cast

"What was your favorite memory of Noises Off?"

"The memory I have from Noises Off was during tech week before the parents dinner, we were doing a run and I was on the platform running to make my cue and my foot went through the set and I destroyed my leg. It was bruised and scabbed for a month after."

Meghan Sheils

Rossana Ye

"My favorite memory from Noises Off was when Sean and I threw vegetable props back and forth on the stage even though it definitely was not supposed to happen during the show."

Keri O'Brien

"My favorite memory from Noises Off was when Keri and I would sit in the audience during rehearsal listening to my ipod, singing at the top of our lungs."

Theo Yeomelakis

Brooke is in her usual state of confusion.

The handyman is here and ready to work!

Alex keeps things in rhythm.

The Spartan Chorale sang Seasons of Love, a crowd favorite.

Tommy entertains the audience with his music.

Winter Concert

Stoneham High School's annual Winter Concert was held on Thursday, December 11, 2008 in our auditorium. The concert showcased SHS' finest musicians and performers and proved to be one of the best concerts yet. The Intermediate Jazz Ensemble kicked off the night with their version of Buster Riders Again directed by Mr. Edmund Grammer, Cantelope Island, Moanin' and Watermelon Man featured solos by seniors Tom O'Connell on the sax and Dylan DiChiara on the drums. Next to take the stage was the Advanced Jazz Ensemble also under the direction of Mr. Grammer. Their performance of Duke Ellington's Cottontail started off their impressive play list followed by Do Nothin' Till You Hear from Me and What Child Is This. Senior soloists included Anthony Duli and Alex Le on drums, Mark Latshaw on bass guitar, Tony DiBiase on guitar, and Tom O'Connell on sax. This talented group of musicians finished off their set with Chank, a John Scofield piece. Senior members of the jazz ensembles included Matt Edginton, Mark Latshaw, John Fiore, Dylan DiChiara, Alex Le, Anthony Duli, Tom O'Connell, and Tony DiBiase. The Spartan Chorale stole the spotlight next singing Seasons of Love from the hit musical "Rent". Mr. Ronald Chibaro, a newcomer to Stoneham High this year, did a fine job conducting with the accompaniment of recent retiree Mr. Robert Lague. They also sang No One is Alone from the musical "Into the Woods," accompanied by senior band member Erin McDermott on the flute. To finish up their performance, they sang Go the Distance from "Hercules" and Jingle Bells arranged by Ray Charles. Senior chorale members included Tony DiBiase and Rachel Proulx. The Concert Band members were the last to take the stage, playing March from Symphony No.2, Fantasy on a Russian Air, Pat-a-Pan, Baby Elephant Walk, and Lost Mountain under the direction of Mr. Grammer. The pieces featured solos by senior Erin McDermott on the flute, Casey Callahan and Alicia Farina on the sax, Brandon Epstein on the trumpet, and Mark Latshaw on the bass guitar. Senior band members included Kelly Kneeland, Ashlyn Sacco, Meghan Sheils, Casey Callahan, Dylan DiChiara, Anthony Duli, Mark Latshaw, Kate Leis, Teanny Yuen, and Erin McDermott. The 2008 Winter Concert proved to be a highlight of the Fine Arts Department's year. All the performers did a fine job, and hopefully they will continue to play and sing in future concerts.

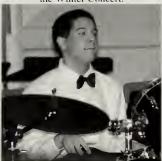

Erin plays with confidence.

Matt brings an "edge" to the Winter Concert.

Mark concentrates on his solo.

Duli gives a beat to the Jazz Ensemble.

Dylan beats the drums.

The chorale looks to Mr. Chibaro for direction.

Rachel hits a high note.

Alicia waits patiently for her turn.

Kelly and Erin: Fabulous flutists.

"What was your favorite memory of the Winter Concert?"

"My favorite memory was laughing so hard when Meghan conducted Baby Elephant Walk."

Erin McDermott

"My favorite memory of the Winter Concert was playing Charlie Parker's Cottontail with the Jazz Band."

Mark Latshaw

"My favorite memory was singing Seasons Of Love because I think it brought us together as a chorus and we sounded great!"

Rachel Proulx

"My favorite memory was playing with the jazz band and having a drum solo in Chank."

Alex Le

Tony and his guitar -- inseparable.

Meghan keeps the beat going.

National Honor Society Induction

In a neat line led by the officers, the new inductees of the National Honor Society walked into the cafeteria. Excited and maybe a little nervous, the inductees took their seats. To be inducted into the National Honor Society, these students had to prove themselves worthy by demonstrating extraordinary qualities of leadership, character, and service over the course of their high school years. Above all, they also had to maintain a minimum GPA of 4.1.

The Induction Ceremony started with a short address by Mr. Russo welcoming the inductees and their families, followed by the singing of the national anthem beautifully performed by the Stoneham Chorale. Secretary Briana DeVincenzo delivered her speech on leadership, followed by Vice-President Paul Born's on scholarship, President Bikang Zhang's on character, and Treasurer Rossana Ye's on service.

Vice-President Paul Born then introduced this year's guest speaker, Mrs. Lorrie Pagluica. Over the years, Mrs. Pagluica, an English teacher at Stoneham High School, has captured students' minds with her likeable personality and love and knowledge of literature. The students smiled as she walked up to the podium and laughed as she made a reference to Henry David Thoreau. Next, the Stoneham Chorale sang the breezy melody "Seasons of Love". Secretary Briana DeVincenzo presented the honorary membership award to Mr. Richard Mongeau, the one, the only, and the best physics teacher at Stoneham High School.

Then, the cafeteria was hushed and lights were dimmed. President Bikang Zhang walked to the podium with Secretary Briana DeVincenzo on his left and Vice-President Paul Born and Treasurer Rossana Ye on his right. The President called out the names of the new inductees. Students walked up to the stage where Paul lit their candles, Rossana pinned their shirts, and Briana handed them their awards. Parents watched proudly as every now and then a flash of light blinded the room, capturing the memory of an unforgettable night.

"What is your favorite way to study?"

"I think the best way to study is in a quiet room with some nice music."

Bikang Zhang

"My favorite way to study is to go to the library or shut myself in my room with my favorite music and concentrate at my desk."

Paul Born

" Making flash cards and study guides alway help."

DramaFest

Every year the Drama Club participates in a competition called Drama Festival. This year SHS performed a 40 minute version of William Shakespeare's Twelfth Night under the direction of Mr. Jason Eppskrier and senior Ashlyn Sacco. Our school competed against seven other high schools, who also put on 40 minute, one-act performances. Twelfth Night is about twins Sebastian (Tim Sheils) and Viola (Meghan Sheils) who are separated by a tragic ship wreck. Thinking that Sebastian is dead, Viola stumbles into the land of Illyria. There she meets Orsino (Kyle Arrington) and the people of Illyria. Viola disguises herself as a boy while she is in Illyria. At a local bar, we meet the three drunks, Sir Toby (Ryan Marchant), Sir Andrew( Dave Hume) and Feste (Conor Barry). Love soon finds itself in strange places. Pompous Malvolio (Sean Perry) attempts to woo lovely Olivia (Alyssa LoGrasso) with comic results. Ultimately, Sebastian and Viola reunite in a bar in Illyria.

Along with talented actors, we also had an awesome crew that made a set look like it came straight out of the 1920's. Our senior crew members included: Kasey Conlon, Nick Federico, Amanda Frost, Ashley Mercer, Heather Merrow, Nikki Roberto, Danielle Salvi, Dave Vargas, Michael Wilson-Pierce, Anna Wu, Rossana Ye, Theo Yeomalakis and Teanny Yuen. Crew worked hard for weeks in order to make the set look realistic. Our costumes and make-up crew, Kasey Conlon, Kate Foley, Rachel Proulx, Meghan Sheils and Ashlyn Sacco, did an amazing job putting last minute touches to costumes and make-up and making sure everyone looked the part before the show. After all eight schools had performed, All Star awards were given out. We received a total of five awards for acting, hair and make-up, set and costumes. Three acting awards were given to Sean Perry, Ryan Marchant, and Conor Barry for their great portrayal of their characters. Costume Design awards were given to Ashlyn Sacco, Meagan Sheils and Kasey Conlon. Also our Stage Manager, Ashlyn Sacco received an award.

"What was your favorite memory of Pramafest?"

"My favorite memory from Fest was after the critique performance when we were told for the first time the show was under 40 minutes. Everyone went crazy and started cheering."

Heather Merrow

"My favorite memory from Fest was at the end of the day when the whole drama club was sitting together holding hands waiting for the awards ceremony to begin. As each member from our school got an award, we would scream and yell their names."

**Ashley Mercer**

"My favorite part of DramaFest was when Theo, Kasey and Jill out-danced all of the other schools in their exact rendition of Single Ladies. That moment will live on, not only in our memories, but also in DramaFest history."

Nick Federico

"My favorite memory of Drama Festival was how after dinner one day during tech week, we had a rave on stage to get us energized for a run."

CARNIVAL BALL

Generally, preparation of the set and the class acts for Carnival Ball begins on the Monday before the show, giving students one week to pull everything together. This year, however, activities were a bit more rushed with an unexpected snow day at the start of the week. Though the show was developed within a matter of three days, the 2009 Carnival Ball was still a terrific success.

It began, of course, with the entrance of the Royal Court, which consisted of attendants and ushers Kasey Conlon and Sean Perry, Makenzie Duffy and Paul Born, Kate Foley and Garrett McCarthy, Ariana Garaffo and Richie Abkarian, Kerry McCarthy and Nicholas Coscia, Keri O'Brien and BiKang Zhang, Bridget O'Halloran and Nicholas Vecchiarello, Meghan Sheils and Lucas Testa, Gina Sicuso and Shawn Secondini, Alessandra Simeone and Mark Andreottola, and King and Queen, Max Kheboian and Catherine Doherty. The 2009 show had two Mistresses of Ceremonies, senior Giliann Collins and junior Tiffany Fontaine. With hit game shows from the past and present as the theme for the show, Giliann and Tiffany intermittently called members from the audience to actively participate on stage as they recreated game shows like The Price Is Right, Name That Tune, and The $10,000 Pyramid. Each of the classes also recreated their own comedic version of shows like Family Feud, Jeopardy, Hollywood Squares, and The Dating Game.

A variety of brilliant performances came from members of the student body. The Concert Band, directed by Mr. Edmund Grammer, opened the show with a lively performance of "You Can't Stop the Beat" from Hairspray. Brittany Cormier sang "Our Song" accompanied by band members Alex Le, John Fiore, and Matthew Hertzog. Tony DiBiase showcased his songwriting when he sang an original composition "No One's Guilty." The Stoneham High School Spartan Chorale, directed by Mr. Ron Chiabaro, sang "Seasons of Love." Briana DeVincenzo entertained the audience as she tapped to "Bleeding Love" while Ines Costa showed her incredible dance moves as she modern danced to "I Surrender." The Jazz Ensemble, also directed by Mr. Edmund Grammer, kept the audience moving with "Route 66/The Jody Grind" and "Pent Up House/The Chicken." Sara Zavarelli closed the show with her rendition of "I'm Yours" while accompanying herself on the piano.

Thanks to all of the wonderful people who helped put the show together, including director Ashlyn Sacco and producer Mr. James Carino; it was truly fantastic and entertaining from start to finish. Mr. Jason Eppskrier and Ms. Jennifer Farabaugh were responsible for the coronation and teaching the court how to waltz to "Remember Me This Way." Other seniors contributed by handling audio, stage management, set design and stage crew. These included DJ Buono, Ryan Symons, Paige MacKay, Lindsey Mahoney, Bridget O'Halloran, and Malcolm Richardson. The members of the Stoneham High community were all winners as we participated in the 2009 Carnival Ball, "Come On Down to Stoneham High."

CAPTAINS' WORDS

Though our record may not reflect it, the Stoneham High field hockey team improved a great deal this season and put up a strong fight against the tough competition of the Middlesex League. With many of our varsity athletes having only two years of field hockey under their belts, the Spartans were still fairly inexperienced compared to other towns which have strong starter programs at the elementary and middle school levels. Although our final record of 3-12-3 is an improvement from last year, it was not an accurate portrayal of the tireless effort and dedication that everyone displayed over the course of the season.

We made some incredible memories this year both on the field and off. The feeling of the 2-1 victory over Melrose simply cannot be expressed. The 1-0 loss to Lexington was a heartbreaker but an incredible game nonetheless. Who will ever forget the team sleepover, the scavenger hunt, the night out in Boston, the animal relay races, the themed practices, or the singing competition on the bus? And ending the season with an amazing tie against tournament-bound Rockets wasn't too shabby either. This season was an incredible success and beyond anything that we could have hoped for. We'd like to give our sincerest thanks to our two amazing coaches, Anna and Jill, for giving us so much of their time, effort, and enthusiasm and to Mr. Pignone for always supporting us and believing in us. Most of all, though, we'd like to thank all of our teammates for making our senior year so enjoyable and memorable.

The golf season started on a positive note. We won our first match against Watertown in a close match. We struggled from there only winning two more matches and tying another. We finished the season with a record of 3-10-1. We had a difficult season, but did the best we could and had a great time playing some of the nicest courses in the areas. We had a small squad of only ten. Senior Captain Ryan Cail led the team as the number one and the only member to qualify for the state tournament, followed by senior Kyle Migliorini at the number two for most of the season. We could always count on these two for a good round and they kept us close in the early stages of the matches. At the number three spot was senior Captain Ryan Shirkoff who always kept his matches close. At the number four spot was senior Captain Ben Hertz who also had a decent year. The number five and six on the team were senior Nick Coscia and sophomore Danny Lumb. Nick was a great addition to the team this year and Danny also had a great second year. In the seven and eight spots were seniors Anthony Pisano and Garrett McCarthy who were both great additions to the team and always had high spirits. At the nine and ten spots were freshman Kevin Young and junior Steven Canova who always had great attitudes. It may not sound like the record of a winning team, but with a majority of inexperienced players, we challenged the teams of the Middlesex League. We were a tight group who always had smiles across our faces and never got too down about our losses. Overall it was a fun year filled with great experiences.

CAPTAINS' WORDS

Though we were nervous coming into the season, our first game against Belmont proved us wrong. We played well and the game flow was amazing. Our captains, and only seniors on the team, were Ashley Cox and Kriste Baranauskaite. Ashley, a back row player, was valuable and a consistent player. Kriste was an all around player who assisted in many of the plays. Madeleine Gaughan, a junior who had been on varsity the longest, improved dramatically. She stunned the team as she she began to get kills in almost all games. Tiffany Lopinsky was the only freshman to make varsity this year. Her discipline to improve was a great asset. Ina Karanxha, a sophomore, made an impressive transformation and her willpower shows great future promise. Amanda Cortese, a sophomore, was bumped to varsity in the middle of the season; she is a determined player and always tries her best. Talia Buonopane, a middle and junior, had a memorable season with many blocks and hits. Melissa Flynn, a sophomore, setter, and back row player showed the best team spirit. Christina Caiazzo, a junior, had amazing setting skills and humor that pushed us through practices and games. Our laborer, Hannah Saro, a junior, always put her heart and soul into the game. Paige Minotti, a junior and our outside surprised us with her hard hits and brought smiles to us all. Back row junior, Madison Burns, was a great individual player and never disappointed us on the court. Though our record 5-19 may not sound like a winning team, we still challenged the Middlesex League teams with a majority of inexperienced players. We played some tough teams, but we always put up a fight. Some teams were shocked when they saw how much we had improved since last year. Our game against Lexington was one of the best. Thanks to our coaches Michelle Davison and Kat Riley, we had a good season. They always helped us strengthen our weaknesses. As a team, we had sleepovers and pasta parties where we becAme good friends. Although we did not have the season we wished for, it was filled with long-lasting memories. Thanks to the girls, we always looked forward to our practices and games. Good luck next year!

GIRLS' CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Norton, R. Dannay, J. Rafferty, A. Genest, E. McDonough, A. Simeone, R. O'Brien, L. Kennedy, A. Gould, S. Peterson, A. Stelmack

Captain Erin McDonough, Coach Norton, Captain Ali Simeone

CAPTAINS' WORDS

We had three seniors this year: Ali Simeone who made a great leader since she is so devoted and enthusiastic; Erin McDonough, the comedian, and Renee O'Brien, a great new addition to the team. We wouldn't have had such a great season if it weren't for our coach, Mr. Norton, whose great coaching skills and advice made him very much appreciated. Ali and Lauren Kennedy both qualified for All-States -- Ali placing 6th and Lauren 36th. Next year current juniors, Lauren and Audrey Genest, will lead the team. The team had a lot of fun with teambonding such as pasta parties, going out to eat, and "dress crazy to practice day." As one of the smallest teams in the Middlesex League, we went up against a lot, but overall we had a very successful season. Our 3-6 record doesn't do justice to all of the hard work and time that the team put in this year. Although we didn't have a winning season, everyone was very happy with the way it went. Everyone improved this year; at the league meet we had three runners place in the top ten which is quite an achievement for a team of our size. As for seniors, Ali won the meet and had an undefeated season in the Middlesex League and Erin placed tenth overall, which is a great accomplishment for a second year runner. Even though it was her first season on the team, Renee made a huge contribution to the team as one of our top finishers at every meet. Overall the season was successful and proved to be fun for everyone.

Our season kicked off with a pretty big win against Wakefield, but later in the season, we faced many teams who had improved tremendously since last year, and we lost to Burlington, Belmont, and Watertown - teams we had hoped to beat. Then there were the strong teams Winchester, Lexington, and Reading, who unfortunately beat us near the end of the season. Overall, we had three wins and six losses, the same record as our previous year. The seniors of the boys' team this year were Zack Kline, Sean Perry, Dave Vargas, Teanny Yuen, Bikang Zhang, and Mark Lodato. During the season, unfortunately we had many injuries as Dave Vargas had an ankle problem, Zack Kline injured his Achilles tendon, and Teanny Yuen hurt his knee and hip. Despite the adversity, they pushed on to improve throughout the season and became strong players for us in most of the meets. Phil Riley, our coach, was definitely a big part of our season, always positively encouraging us to push on through practice and the meets to be where we knew we could be. The two captains, seniors Sean Perry and Mark Lodato, organized team meetings and helped lead in practice to motivate our team to improve. Next year the Cross Country team will have very strong senior runners among them, especially Matt Lawson, Kevin Griffin, Scott McNamara, Andrew Tkaczuk and Bobby Andrews, with many other hopefuls on the team including Brian Buckley and Rich Pearl.

Although we were low in numbers, we were high in spirit. With expectations of competition, we kicked our small team into high gear. Coming prepared everyday was a must; we had to get ready to stunt, jump and tumble. Everyone worked to their potential. However, in the end, we ended up not competing due to injuries and sickness.

With a week off, we were able to recover and pull ourselves back together for the pep rally. All the practicing paid off and our routine was perfected. With our last game left, emotions were running high and excitement was pumping through our veins. The seniors, Megan Johnson, Jocelyn Fraser and Ariana Garaffo, were struck by reality; it was our last high school football game and were so proud of what we had accomplished. The bond formed with the girls on the team is unbreakable. Cheerleading is very rewarding; it teaches you determination and confidence, and the greatest of all, the feeling of accomplishment. I as well as Ms. DiLisio, hope that these girls take what they have learned throughout their years and this season of cheerleading and put it to good use for the rest of their lives.

The Boys Varsity Soccer team ended the season with a decent record of 8-6-5. The best part of our season was our winning game against Winchester, one of our greatest rivals. We beat them 1-0 with a nail-biting goal in the last five seconds by Jon Principato. That game put our season in order and taught us that we could hold our own against the best. Captains Jon Principato, Zach Daly and Dave Riggillo as goalie always challenged the team to improve, but at the same time made sure we all had fun. Ryan Symons and Malcolm Richardson always supported the team on and off the field and acted as surrogate captains. Shane Foley, the only senior on the back line, was our anchor. Mark Andreottola improved the most this season. Kyle Bowdidge, midfield, always gave his best, Ryan Constantino always made us laugh, and Dana Plant never gave up. The underclassmen rounded out our team and showed great leadership; we know they will do very well next year and we were glad we had a chance to play with them. We want to thank Coaches Jim Carino and Chris Serino for their dedication and encouragement. We will miss the pasta parties with all of

We can't believe how fast this season flew by. With a 4-12-2 record, we know we could have done better, but the numbers don't tell the whole story; it's the memories that matter. Being a senior was almost surreal, and being captains of this team made this year that much better. We started the season with a strong group of determined girls that we felt confident with since we had worked together over the summer. Although some games didn't go how we expected, we made up for that in other games. We scored two goals against Winchester, a team that had only four goals scored against it. We lost 2-1 to Reading, which felt like a win to us. We did many fun things as a team: went to dinner, did a scavenger hunt, ate at pasta parties, and TPing. As corny as it sounds, the fun never stopped and we will miss this past season. Speaking for other seniors as well, we are going to miss everyone on this team. You were like sisters to us and we couldn't have done it without you, so thank you girls. We would also like to thank Coach Chapman. Ever since we were voted captains, she began to work with us to put us on the right track to lead our team to success. She always encouraged us to do our best and play our hardest; she never gave up on us. When times got hard, she never doubted us. She knew the team we were, and she knew we could out play the majority of the teams in our league...and she pushed us into believing that ourselves. Without her, we wouldn't have been who we were. We want to wish her luck with her upcoming team, and like she always said, "Play with heart."

This season didn't go the way we hoped or expected. We were 1-10, but what the record did not show is the hard work, determination, and perseverance we showed throughout the season. This year we had an entirely new coaching staff. After practicing the methods of Coach Powers for three years, the new techniques took some time to get used to. The highlight of the season came in the first week. We were able to beat North Middlesex with a last second stand by our defense.

The seniors on our team had a huge role this year. Starting on the offensive line was, at left tackle Cpt. Ryan MacDonald, center Cpt. Chris Murphy, right guard Mike Rourke, right tackle Alex Carpenito, and C.J. McEachern at tight end along with Mike Mayo. In the offensive backfield was Oscar Villagran at running back, with Chris Richmond and Matt Forcione at wide receiver. On the defensive line we had Bobby Callahan and Mike Bekkenhuis at ends, with Luke Testa and Gerard Palladino at tackles. At linebacker we had Cpt. Dan Dowling, Cpt. Justin Ehrhardt, and Anthony Colarusso. Starting at safety were Cpt. Richie Abkarian and Pat Reinold. Of course we can't forget our senior special teams coach, Mike Calarese.

This season we came together as a team and formed a bond that is unmatched. We spent more time with each other than we did with our own families. We will always remember the countless hours we spent together as a team and what it felt like to play next to each other.

The swim team ended this past season with a 3-6-1 record. It may not sound like a winning record, but by the end of the season we emerged strong. Our defeat against Melrose was a rush of excitement for everyone. Every girl on the team gave their best that day; it was a great triumph for us. As the season progressed, we regained our momentum for the league meet finishing sixth over Wakefield, Melrose, and Woburn. Almost every girl cut time off, it was the best way to end our season. This year we sent two individuals and three relays to North sectionals. Our 200 medley relay placed 15th, the 200 free relay placed 17th, and our 400 free relay placed 13th and sadly missed states by a fraction of a second. Emily Houghton, a sophomore, placed 14th in the 100 yd backstroke and 11th in the 100 yd freestyle. The other individual sent was Courtney Day, a junior who placed 28th in 200 yd I.M. From sectionals Courtney swam the 200 yd I.M. and Emily placed 12th in the 100 yd back at states. We also had two relays at states, the 200 medley, which placed 14th and the 200 free relay that placed 9th over the strong team of Winchester.

Our team got along very well which is difficult for large teams. Our seniors, Andiana Aponte, Molly Conneely, Nicole DeBenedetto, Makenzie Duffy, Marybeth Ford, Kelly Kneeland, Kate Leis, and Jillian Richardson, made sure everyone felt welcome. We also have to thank our coaches Ms. Collins and Mr. Hech for a successful season in and out of the pool.

We had a successful season despite having small numbers this year. We ended the season with 4-5, which was an improvement from 2-7 last year. We started off the season great with a record of 3-1. Our win against Wakefield came down to the 4x400m relay. Malcolm Richardson took the baton behind and blew past their anchor to win the meet. Our seniors left their marks on this season. Mike Rourke threw the shotput very well and qualified for states. Bob Callahan qualified for states in both the high jump and dash. Dan Dowling ran the dash and qualified for states in hurdles. Mike Calarese ran the dash and won the Winchester meet for us with a second place in the dash. David Olivia Vargas and BiKang Zhang also ran well this season, as well as Malcolm Richardson and Justin Ehrhardt.

This team trained very hard and we really improved through the season. At the Relays Meet, the shuttle hurdle relay team, consisting of Dan Dowling, Bob Callahan, Pete Alie, and Justin Ehrhardt, broke the school record! We had meets against teams that had twice the numbers we did, but we doubled up and did the best we could. Our determination and hard work running and training were the keys to our success.

CAPTAINS' WORDS

Our track season for the 2008-09 school year was like none other. Although we did not have a winning season (4-5 record), our team worked hard and certainly performed their best. The team was lead by seniors Ashley Butterworth, Michelle Racioppi, Jillian Richardson, Jamie Zizza, and captains Ali Simeone and Renee O'Brien.

Ashley was a major contributor in the varsity 55m dash and the varsity 300m along with Michelle who was one of the top placers in the 300m. Jamie worked very hard and earned her spot in the varsity flight of the 55m high hurdles. Ali held her title of being the best distance runner in the Middlesex League in the 2 mile and 1 mile. Jill was one of the quickest girls to run the 55m dash along with Renee O'Brien who was the top placer in both the 55m dash and the high jump.

Though the senior girls made many contributions to the team, it is important to highlight the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors as well. Several underclassmen contributed points and were vital to our meets.

The team bonded in many ways at pasta dinners and attending other school sporting events. These events created a comfortable environment for seniors and freshmen alike.

Our coaches also contributed greatly to the team. As a first-year head coach, Ms. Carter took on her position with enthusiasm and motivated us to do our best. Our assistant coaches, Coach DiLisio, Coach Norton, and Coach Gardner were encouraging and always ready to help. They all enjoyed helping us improve and succeed. Every member of this team, coaches and athletes alike, enjoyed a fun and competitive season.

The 2008-2009 Stoneham High School Gymnastics team finished its season with three wins and three losses. This year's team consisted of 2 seniors, 6 juniors, 7 sophomores and 2 freshmen. The two senior captains were Jolene Romano and Rebecca McGrath. Both seniors put forth their best effort and focused on their personal achievements. Despite many injuries throughout the season, we managed to pull it together and end the season 3-3. Even though we didn't have the best of seasons, this was the first year that the team really got along and did things together. Before almost every meet, we would have a pasta party. We even got together a few times and went to the games and had team sleepovers. Even though we did not have the record that we wanted, we came together as a team and that is more important than winning or losing. The team improved greatly over the course of the season. Many of the girls were new to the sport but still managed to make a huge contribution due to the devotion of Coach AnneMarie McNeil. AnneMarie is an excellent coach and provided support and motivated us to do our best. Along with the help of our assistant coaches, Danielle and Bonez, we had a memorable and successful season.

This season didn't go exactly as we expected. Our final record was just 4-16, but it doesn't reflect how hard we played. Most of our losses were only by a couple points, and we missed the tournament by two points after suffering a tough home loss to Minuteman early in the season. We had a new coach this year, and it took us a few games to adjust to the new playing style, but once we got the hang of it we were okay. Our most memorable game was our first game against our rival Reading. It was a Friday night and we had the late game, so there was a good crowd there. We had yet to win a game, and needed to put together a string of wins if we had any chance of making the state tournament. We were really psyched for the game and ended up winning by 7 points. It really jump started us for the second half of the season, and we started playing better basketball from that point on. Overall we all had a great time throughout the season, and it was one that we will always remember.

This year our team had an amazing, record-breaking season. We ended with a record of 19-4 and went 13-0 on our home court. We would never have made it as far as we did without the incredible team chemistry we built. Our team consisted of three senior captains: Gina, Cathy, and Silva; three juniors: Cassie, Sarah, and Kelsey; four sophomores: Ariana S, Ariana T, Vanessa, and Jenn; and two senior managers: Carolyn and Molly. We had an amazing coaching staff to accredit. Coach Billings pushed us hard at every practice, believed that we could win, and most importantly helped us believe in ourselves. Coach Smith was always there to help us and support us. She did a great job with the JV team. Coach K was always around to assist us with plays and also had a great season with his freshman team. Some of the highlights of our season included our wins against Reading, Melrose, and Lexington. We beat our rivals, the Reading Rockets, on our home court by seven, making it their only league loss of the season. After losing to Melrose the first time, we came out determined to win on our home court. We sunk two foul shots with nine seconds to go to secure the win. Lastly, our Lexington game was a fight to the end. With a huge crowd supporting us on senior night, the team was pumped to play. We ended up winning by two in overtime. After our regular season was over, we went on to play in the tournament. Knowing that we would face competitive teams at this level, the team worked really hard over February break. It was nice to have the advantage of playing at home in the playoffs. We beat two tough teams, Watertown and Lynnfield, to move onto compete in the division III north semifinals. We faced Swampscott who ended up beating us. It was a tough loss for everyone. However, with such an incredible season in our pockets, it was hard to be upset. As senior captains, it was certainly an amazing experience to end our high school careers with a mind blowing season. There are a few people we would like to thank. First off, thanks again to our coaches for everything. Second, we would like to thank our parents and superfans for being at our games and believing in us! We truly could not have asked for a more memorable season. We will miss everyone on the team, but we'll be back to visit and cheer you on. As the season came to an end, we captains have been reminiscing on the great friendships we have made through this program - the memories, the friends, and the achievements. This year, however, we had a very small team compared to other years. The fourteen of us consisted of three seniors, five juniors, one sophomore, and three freshmen. Five of these girls had never cheered before. We had to teach them technique and whip them into shape to perform in front of an audience. Not competing this year gave us time to perfect our floor cheers that we perform at both the girls and boys basketball games. Although this year was somewhat of a rebuilding year, we hope we left our impressions on these girls, and they learned lessons that will help them not only in their cheerleading careers, but that can also apply to their lives.

Stoneham Boys Ice Hockey team finished their season 5-15-1. The seniors on the team were Captain Mike Kozlowski, Captain Mike Mayo, Anthony Colarusso, Dom LaGambina, Ryan O'Leary, Wojdakowski, Nick Coscia and Kyle Bowdidge. We also had a junior assistant Captain Chris Leavitt. Everyone gave their best efforts in all the games even though we did not have the record we were looking for in the end. We did not win the games that we wanted to win, which hurt us and a long list of sicknesses and injuries that also kept us out of the tournament. But the team did have fun together. The day before every game or the morning of a Saturday game, we would have a pasta party which brought the team together. Besides the pasta parties, we did a lot of things together as a team like go out to dinner after practices or hangout on the weekends. #### CAPTAINS' WORDS

We started our season not knowing quite what to expect, since we had a solid number of newcomers and a brand new coaching staff. From the moment we took the ice, however, we showed great potential and promise. One challenge, since there were so many new players, was learning to play as a team instead of as 19 different skaters. But the combination of the coach's staff and dedication and the team's enthusiasm and determination brought us together for a successful season.

This success was not defined as winning, since this was a major building year, but was rather measured by growing, improving, and achieving our goals. We wanted to make a statement in the Middlesex League, which we believe we did. We wanted other teams to know that when they played Stoneham, we would come out hard and they better be ready. Our efforts resulted in a 3-3 tie with the second place team in the league, Wakefield, a win at Watertown, and a huge victory against Lynn English, one of the top teams that made it to the tournament. We finished with a 6-10-4 record, which represents our passion, devotion, dedication, and willpower that every player showed on and off the ice all season. One of the season's highlights was when Senior Captain Jessica Muolo won her 100th career point here at SHS. As captains, we couldn't be happier to call this determined, fun and talented group of girls our teammates, and we hope they feel the same way. After such a great hockey season, it is safe to say that the future of Stoneham Girls' Hockey looks extremely bright.

"Joining the SHS Drama Club was one of my most important memories. With the encouragement of a few fellow classmates, I was able to audition for my first play and was given the lead role! I was to play the role of this crazy lady, Mrs. Clackett. Being a bit crazy myself made it especially easy to get in character. I enjoyed playing her part because she was extremely funny and entertaining. When the night of the first performance arrived, I was very nervous, but in the end the play was a great success. The audience loved Noises Off! Without the help and support of the Drama Club, my senior year wouldn't have been the same."

Keri O'Brien

"One cold night at the beginning of March during our freshman year, a few of us found ourselves having a huge water balloon fight outside in the dark. We filled them up with warm water and soon fifteen of us were running around outside. We briefly considered we might get hypothermia, but we were staying warm by eating five large pizzas and arguing about teams. The first water balloon hit my chest and soaked my sweatshirt. After that first shocking cold reality, the rest of the water balloons seemed tranquil. Our team was victorious, of course, and the water balloon fight became a ritual we performed every year. We never planned for this to become a tradition, but it's these kind of rare and weird nights that make the best memories."

Joe Lacy

"We'll never forget dissecting the rat in Ms. Breen's Anatomy and Physiology class period 6. It was something we weren't expecting to do when we first signed up for the class, but it ended up being a good experience. We sat in the back corner of the room with all the pros. At first we were completely grossed out and unsure if we'd even touch the rat. But then we noticed the future surgeons in the room had already taken out the organs. Jenelle was more scared than I was, but it still took some getting used to. To make the dissecting more exciting, we decided to grab our camera and take pictures of every organ we cut out. It was definitely funny taking pictures with the dead rat and its extra-long intestine! We even took pictures of the rat itself with most of its mid-section completely empty. Having to dissect the rat for 5 or 6 classes wasn't our favorite part of Anatomy and Physiology, but it definitely was an unforgettable experience."

"Lunch Time. I was always the first in and the last out. My friends thought it was funny to mess with my lunch, cracking my peanuts, squishing my tomatoes, squeezing my orange, or hiding my Ranch dressing. One day, Ryan did all of those things, but I struck back. I threw my plate of Ranch dressing on Ryan, poured my water over Danny Faulkner, and squished my orange over Bobby Callahan's head. It's a day we'll remember for a long time."

Shawn Secondini

"During junior year in March 2008 on a bitterly cold, windy day, the entire school was evacuated. We assumed it was just another fire drill, but not this time. As we exited near the gym, we spotted a massive, ugly cloud of dark smoke pouring from the school. We realized it was coming from the transformer room. I'll admit to being surprised and so were many others at the amount of smoke pouring out of our small school. This kind of event doesn't happen everyday! Luckily I was wearing a jacket, but many other students were freezing in the brutal, unforgiving cold. After a bit, we were allowed to gather in the cafeteria, and Mr. Russo announced we could all go home. We ended up missing four days of school because of the clean-up. I still remember how my friend came over to me and said sarcastically, 'Sorry, everyone was separated during the mass confusion in the fire.' I'll never forget what he said."

Eddie Castro

"One of the best memories I have is coming to Stoneham High School when I was in second and third grade while the new South School was under construction. It was awesome coming to school every day and seeing the big kids walking down the halls. From a young kids perspective, these high school students looked as if they were giants. I enjoyed it when we did activities with them; it was fun learning from someone I looked up to. I had two great teachers those two years, Mrs. Ardvinson and Mrs. Swanson. Mrs. Ardvinson's 2nd grade class was in Carino's Mac lab. The room was so small, we had buckets as our desks. Channel 7 interviewed us on our dinosaur projects that year, and it was so cool to see our faces on the 6:00 news that night. Mrs. Swanson's third grade class was across the hall. Everyone fought over who got to sit in the chair during reading time. We all kept a close eye on the sticker chart to see who was in the lead. Somehow it was always Heather. I had a great experience at SHS those two years."

Mike Awiszus

"No one expected our softball team to make it this far, but the Dream Team of 2007 beat Tewksbury in the Division 2 North Semi-Finals 5-0. We worked hard and we just weren't going to let up to anyone. With determination, perseverance, and faith, we knew we could do anything because that day, nothing was impossible. Our team, Shannon Torosian, Meaghan McCarthy, Paige Minotti, Jennie LaColla, Kayla McEachern, Rachel Minotti, Jenna Tortorici, Michelle Caouette, Gianna Rolli, Melissa Gregory and I made it a day we will never forget."

We were so innocent, sweet and naive. Life narrowed down to crackers and juice and our parents arms. A hat, a purse, a toy car brought pure joy. We were the main characters in our family's saga. Now we see the world with older eyes and our place in it has changed; we are becoming our own authors. We go forward now to create new chapters not only in our stories, but in the world's. We hope we can do our small bit in writing a happy chapter to add to humanity's book.

ADVISORS: Ms. Tricia DiPietro and Ms. Krista Stevens It's taken many chapters - a lot of hard work from every single member of the yearbook staff - to make this long story short. The entire class of 2009 has written part of each other's stories and have recorded the memories of these four years set at Stoneham High School. Each student of the senior class offered a part of their story, all which culminated into this book - a summary of our high school years. We will close this book in our lives as we begin writing the next one. However, in future years, we hope that you will reread this yearbook, reminisce, and remember all the great memories you had and the friendships you made. May the characters and stories in these pages live in your hearts forever.

~ The Yearbook Editors

Lexa Daniels

You have been hidden in your cocoon, and you are now blossoming as every butterfly does. Your accomplishments are dark secrets that only your true friends acknowledge. You have grown from a mouse to Clara and finally the sugar plum fairy! Your graduation exemplifies your tedious commitment to your academics; to say we are proud of you wouldn't justify our true feelings.

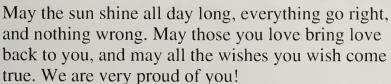

Congratulations and we love you, Mom, Dad, Chris, and Natalie
